Exchange Assembly Set For March 4

March 4 has been selected for an exchange assembly at Pomona Junior college by local students, Al Pickhardt, commissioner of forensics and assemblies, announced today. Pickhardt is arranging the program which will probably consist of a one-act play, and musical numbers by the music department.

Pomona J. C. entertainers will come here April 28 for a similar assembly.

Episode of Southern Cruise Concluded in Today's Issue

By JACK GARDNER

(This is the last in a series of articles describing the adventures of Bill Twist and Johnny McBride on Fred Lewis' yacht, The Stranger.)

April 1, 1936 was the day The Stranger and her crew of 54 sailed from San Pedro for the tropical islands. The voyage to the Hawaiian Islands was marred by a rather heavy gale, but no damage was done other than several severe cases of seasickness.

For two months the boys rode the breakers and lay on the sand everyday at the beach of Waikiki. Sailing due southeast, Palmyra Island was the next stop for the cruising vagabonds. Here they collected many valuable specimens of tropic fish which were later given to the San Francisco aquarium.

Past the equator into the Southern hemisphere, The Stranger's next stopping place was the Samoan islands. There, 'tis rumored

Assemblies, Radio Programs, Smoker Outlined By McDaniel For Year

LATE BULLETINS

Nelson Rogers, former Junior college student, will have the baritone lead in "The Bartered Bride" tonight at the Orange Union high school. Leland Auer, former music instructor here, is the musical director of the production.

The Bachelor service club will purchase a victory flag soon to be displayed in front of College Hall every morning following an athletic victory, Bill Greschner announced this morning.

March 17 has been set as the date for an assembly in which the service clubs will furnish the program.

Neil McDaniel, president of the Associated Students, outlined his plans for the semester today in the following statement to El Don:

"A bigger and better Fiesta, exchange assemblies with neighboring junior colleges, a radio program, and a local talent boxing and wrestling show,—these, we hope, are in store for Associated Students this semester.

"These are plans which call for the support of every interested student, so gather around and get the inside info.

"All plans for the Fiesta are in the capable hands of Charles McIntyre. This year we hope to make this a gala celebration which will be open to the general public as well as to Orange county high school students. This spells work with a capital 'W', but it should add color, gaiety, and crowds to our traditional event.

"Al Pickhardt is lining up an attractive array of assemblies. A tentative schedule calls for the aforementioned exchange assemblies followed by local talent and Ebbl cooperative programs. Also, in conjunction with this enter-

Screen Test, Part In Universal Picture Await Lucky Students

Screen tests and a part in a Universal picture await some lucky junior college students! At least that is the incentive offered local jaysee students if they enter the Orange County Peace Officers Association personality contest.

The contest, which is to be held soon, is being conducted in conjunction with the association's annual ball March 13 in the Valencia ballroom. Men and women students were urged to enter the contest by Lee Mann, chairmen.

According to Mr. Mann, qualifications to enter are that the contestants be between the ages of 16 and 23. Those who are interested may register at the headquarters, 420 West Fourth street, he said.

Lending Library Started Here

Approximately $50 will be spent on the initial purchase of books for the proposed new lending library sponsored by the Gaucho service club. Proceeds of the Penny Fair will be used in the project, it was revealed today by Muryl Hallman, in charge of the project.

Hallman said that about 20 copies of the best-sellers both in fiction and non-fiction would be purchased to start the library.

A five cent fee a week to rent the books and one cent a day when they are overdue will be charged. The money will be placed in a revolving fund to purchase other new books in the future.

The lending library will occupy a corner in the regular college library and will be under the direction of Miss Lillian L. Dickson, librarian, Hallman said.

Miss Whiting Attends Alumni Meeting

Miss Mabel G. Whiting attended a meeting of the alumni of Oberlin college, Ohio recently, held at the home of film comedian Edward Everett Horton in Hollywood.

The program consisted of a piano recital by David Moyer of the Oberlin conservatory faculty. At the conclusion of the meeting President Wilkins addressed the company over long distance telephone.

Negative Team Wins Match At Home

Local Affirmative Team Will Meet Fullerton Here March 9

BULLETIN

Word received here today indicated that Chaffey would forfeit the debate with Santa Ana scheduled to be held at Ontario this afternoon. The forfeit assures the Dons of three victories against one loss for the first two rounds of conference debates.

Don debaters were successful in defeating Pomona in a conference debate held here this week and as a result remain in the running for the conference forensic title. It was Pomona's first loss this year.

Anne Pellegrin and Gordon Bishop, the local team, defended the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry." Pomona was represented by Ruth Thomas and Ralph Freeland, who upheld the affirmative angle of the argument.

Prof. W. Theron Ashby, debate coach from Whittier college, acted as judge and rendered the decision. Santa Ana and Pomona are now tied for first place in the Eastern conference division. Both teams have two victories to their credit against one loss.

The members of the local affirmative team are Franklin Davis and Albert Pickhardt. They will meet Fullerton here on March 9.

Engineers Show Abandoned

Engineer's club annual show will not be held this semester, according to Dick Connell, president of the American Association of Engineers. This would have been the sixth anniversary of the event.

Instead, the club plans to present several exhibitions a night for two or three weeks. These demonstrations will take place here although not as long as those of former years. No definite dates have been set.

Merchants to Merge With J. C. Merchandising Students

Merchandising students are making arrangements this week to begin work in downtown stores, according to Miss Dorothy Decker, merchandising instructor. Actual work will begin as soon as the students and store heads fix the working hours most convenient for both.

Open only to students taking full merchandising majors, one unit of college credit will be given for working three hours a week for the balance of the semester. Only one or two students will be sent to each store, Miss Decker stated.

Considered as a merchandising laboratory, the students are required to discuss some problem in store work each week, as well as do the regular duties assigned by the employer. No pay is given for this work.

Cooperation by the stores was arranged by Miss Decker. The stores are to be used for the duration of the semester and will teach the students first hand knowledge of store management.

The Famous department store, Montgomery Ward and company, Hugh J. Lowe, Vandermaast Inc., Santa Ana Bookstore, Rankin's, and Steele's dress shop, will cooperate with the scheme.

Sit-Down Workers, Not Strikers, On This New Job

At last a place has been found for N. Y. A. workers who sit down on the job. The art department is using them for models.

Live models for art classes is nothing new, but heretofore members of the class have taken turns at the job.

The innovation was the result of a suggestion made by Miss Frances W. Egge, head of the art department.

This is proving to be a very popular job, it was declared.

tainment, we hope to arrange for a series of radio broadcasts over KVOE using our own students as entertainers.

"The last and most indefinite, yet most lucrative project, is a local talent boxing and wrestling smoker. This could be arranged as an invitation to Orange county athletes with all proceeds to be given to the swimming and rugby teams which are sorely handicapped by lack of funds.

"It looks like a banner year, but everyone must help. Keep those suggestions and helpful little hints pouring in. They are really appreciated."

Warren Mann, Hans Bergsetter, Clyde Files and Herb Lyman are to attend the Southern California De Molay councilors' conclave in Los Angeles Sunday.

THOUGHTS ON A NEW CAMPUS

In the early days of jaysee when the enrollment did not exceed several hundred students, the housing and educational facilities of the high school were adequate to take care of the junior college. As the junior college began to grow, it was deemed necessary that it have its own plant.

The plant was finally moved to North Main street with an abandoned junior high school building used as the center of the jaysee campus. In addition to this structure, bungalows were built and the old and new board of education buildings were utilized along with the Y. M. C. A.

The result of constructing the present plant was a junior college campus that was scattered over a very large area. In order for the student to get to his different classes, it is necessary that he cross the busiest street in town from two to a dozen times a day.

A group of active Santa Ana citizens have seen the faults of the present junior college and have inaugurated a move to obtain a completely new one. A resolution has been drawn up and has been presented to the board of education that they obtain all necessary data as to the needs and probable cost of a new plant. A suggested site for a new jaysee is the Hoover elementary school on east Santa Clara street. The Board of Education has taken immediate action and has started an inquiry.

Now that the citizens of Santa Ana have seen the need of a new jaysee campus, it is only proper that we obtain the opinion of the students of junior college.

DICK GEETING, Sophomore

"We need a new school plant in which all classes and buildings are concentrated into one center. Such a plant would greatly improve our school spirit and greater co-operation would result. With our present plant, the student's time is entirely taken up by passing from class to class, resulting in a lack of friendship. A new plant would raise the prestige of the school, increase the efficiency of studying, and give our school a higher standing with other schools. Such a plant would be an asset to the city as well as the school."

LAVENE PARKS, Freshman
"In order for a student to have a high morale, he must have pleasing surroundings. We need a new plant with the classes concentrated to keep the morale of the school high. Under our present system, too much time is taken in passing to and from the widely separated classes. A new plant would attract many students that would have originally started at a four-year college and at the same time would attract a better class of students. With these students, the scholastic standing of the school as a whole would undoubtedly be raised."

GORDON LOCKETT, Sophomore

"As I see it, a new plant for our school is of importance. Our present plant is sorely in need of modern conveniences and classes and athletic facilities need to be more centrally located. I believe it would tend to increase the enrollment. Individuals going to a university will go anyway, but a new junior college with modern buildings and facilities will influence many to come here who go elsewhere. Such a plant would instill an attitude of good feeling in the students and would arouse their pride for their school."

ANNE WETHERELL, Freshman

"Because of the poor campus, our jaysee is not 'on the map.' Our old and separated buildings are keeping out students from entering. A new campus would be an attraction to students outside of the district and would give those inside the district something to be proud of. We need a gym, an abundance of tennis courts and other athletic facilities. The Hoover school location sounds good to me. The traffic problem would be solved there. In being more or less isolated the noise of the city would be lost, resulting in better concentration."

Johnny Sauers will attend Whittier college's "Pansy formal" in Hollywood Saturday night.

Twelve weeks of classroom work will be supplemented by six weeks on the practice drives.

Creole Youths Responsible For Origin of New Orleans Festival

By MARY KNOCH

Once each year New Orleans doffs reality, dons pretense, and has a gay, good time. The world recognizes it as Mardi Gras celebration which was held this month in the Southern city.

Nobody had planned the first carnival for New Orleans. It just happened.

A dozen or more Creole youths who studied in Paris and returned to live in New Orleans found themselves with plenty of money, slaves to wait upon them, and nothing whatever to do. The stupidity of a provincial town bored them stiff, especially on Shrove Tuesday, 1827, when they recalled the delights of Mardi Gras at Paris. They recalled how the revelers followed a fat ox in riotous procession and where Columbines danced and smiled through clouds of confetti.

Something had to be done for the young men and on the spur of the moment they staged a celebration. Costumes and masques were brought out of the garrets and without warning a mob of demoted masquerades raised their voices in the streets.

So the carnival began in New Orleans in 1827. Year after year the practice grew with no thought of system.

Every fellow made a racket according to his own invention. Cliques banded together and paraded. At night various groups each gave a masque ball. Little by little the makeshift groups became permanent and their annual balls became features of the carnival.

Next came the idea of having a queen. Then came the court. The feminine innovation was so successful that rival Krewes sprang up, each with its queen and court.

The Mystic Krewe of Comas was formed in 1852 for a pageant and masquerade ball which continues to this day. Other organizations operated independently until 20 years later, when the Grand Duke Alexis visited New Orleans. To welcome an imperial Romanoff the people felt they must put forward a potentate of equal rank, so Rex King of the Carnival was proclaimed, with his lady.

Thus did the annual pageant and celebration develop.

Proceeds Of Penny Drive Totaled

According to John Ramirez, president of Phi Theta Kappa and general chairman of the student loan fund penny drive, $72.70 was contributed in the drive held this week. Winners of the prizes offered were Calvin C. Flint's history 1B class and Miss Lella B. Watson's German 1B class.

Mr. Flint's class contributed $4.13 and won the first prize, a five-pound box of candy. Miss Watson's class won the second prize for contributing the most for a class with less than 25 members. There are 11 members in the class and they contributed $2.80.

George B. Holmes' accounting 160B class won the third prize by contributing the most per person.

The outstanding contributions from campus clubs were $10 given by Beta Gamma and $5 given by El Don. Service clubs who contributed were the Spinsters, Las Meninas, Buccaneers, Gauchos, and Piloteers.

Orpheo Troupe Begins Tour

Miss Myrtle A. Martin's jaysee men's chorus will sing at Garden Grove high school Wednesday afternoon, March 4, in the opening program of a series to be presented at the different county high schools, by the Orpheo troupe.

"Liars Two," a one-act play, written and directed by William Backman will also feature each Orpheo program.

Other programs lined up include one at Laguna Beach, May 4; Santa Ana, March 31; and San Juan Capistrano at a later date, Miss Martin, head of the college music department head, said.

Every year programs are presented at the county high schools to advertise the local jaysee.

Augment Tavern Post Staff

Carl Aubrey and Anne Wetherell have been appointed to the Tavern Post staff, Editor Mary Paxton announced today. Both will be associate editors, she stated.

"The appointment of two freshmen is made so that next year there will be somebody at jaysee with experience in publishing the Post," Miss Paxton said.

She also stated that although the deadline for Tavern Post material is March 10, the sooner the contributions are in the easier it will be for the staff to complete this issue. Material may be given to any English teacher or member of the Tavern Post staff.

Noted Opera Selected

"Naughty Marietta," Victor Herbert's famed opera, has been chosen by a special committee to be presented by the combined jaysee music department, May 21.

A new plan of organization is being used for this production. Calvin C. Flint will be in charge of publicity and finances; Miss Frances Egge, costumes and scenery; Miss Zena Leck, dances; Alan A. Revill, orchestra; Miss Myrtle A. Martin, music; and Wallace Grigg in charge of stage settings.

"Ox car" Is Too Much For Writer

Baseball Player Gets His Man

By LAWRENCE TRICKEY
I was talking the other day to "Oxcar" Zibblewhich. "Oxcar," you will remember, was the former star catcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers in years gone by. Now he is a well known figure in and about the inner sanctums of modern baseball.

Well, anyhow, "Oxcar," while not as young as he used to be, which isn't so unusual, is nevertheless still fairly active for all his long years behind the bat for the Dodgers, which is unusual. Today he had promised to give me an interview concerning his former days starring for the Brooklyn gang and so here I was talking to him.

"Oxcar" is a rather short fellow, but his leg muscles and his chest and his arms are so developed that he looks like a compressed Primo Carnera. You know what I mean, stocky, sawed-off, but plenty tough. That's the picture you get of "Oxcar" when you first see him.

No sooner had I introduced myself than "Oxcar" dug up an old ball and two gloves and told me to toss some over to him while we talked. Being such a singular-looking chap and looking very capable of backing up his words, I grabbed the ball and did as I was told!

"Oxcar," I said, "What do you think of the supreme court situation?" leading up to one of my main points, for after all I was interviewing him.

"Well, I think they've got a good chance of finishing in the first division if they can just get hold of a good pitcher."

"Oxcar" pegged the ball in my general direction. I saw it coming and held up the glove to snag it, but somehow it bounced out of the leather and cracked soundly against my skull.

Through stars and whizzing planets, I queried, "What do you think of Joe Louis' comeback?"

"That boy Feller looks to give Diz Dean a run for his records if he can come through!"

This time the ball popped out of my glove and rebounded with a thump off my shin. Now anyone knows that a baseball is no softy, but my shin surely turned out to be just that!

"Do you believe in child marriages?"

"Well, I do think Judge Landis could have done better. He should have done something about it. After all, baseball is just a business and—"

I saw the ball coming this time and grabbed for it. It wasn't there and as I grabbed for nothing, a meteor crashed into my nose. Through space I could see "Oxcar" roaring with laughter, holding his sides as if to compress somewhat his guffaws. Then as I floated through the light air, listening to the sweet twitter of the birds, it slowly came to me that it must have been one of "Oxcar's" slow balls that had been the death-dealing weapon.

Now, if you will please call the ambulance or the hearse to drag my body away, I will quit babbling aim-

New Baseball Field Sought

Fred Titensor Quits Track

Hopes for a championship four-lap relay team were dimmed today when it was recently learned that Fred Titensor, no. 1 440 man on Santa Ana High's cinder squad last term, will not report for track this season.

Last week we introduced Tommy Sullivan, the most promising of 440 possibilities. Here are two more aids, graduates of high school ranks who will battle it out in the one-lap grind.

Introducing Harry Miles: Standing well above 6 feet and tipping the scales near the 170 mark, Harry looks more like a javelin tosser or a shot-putter. As a prodigy of Coach Vincent Hume-ton at Tustin High, the husky Tustinite won all of his league dual 440 matches last year, and earned a third place in the final Orange league meet. His best time registered in high school was 53.8s.

Introducing Harold Eastham: Still tied down to a first string guard spot on Coach Beatty's basketball squad, Hal has had no chance to exhibit his lengthy strides this term. However, he was a monogram winner at Santa Ana High.

WRESTLERS LOOSE

Fullerton matmen defeated Santa Ana's exponents of the manly art to the tune of 40-5 in a meet held at Fullerton. It was a case of experience overwhelming willingness.

In the heavyweight division Titensor, S. pinned Taylor, F. in the fast time of 58 sec. In the 135 lb. class, Ishii, F. pinned Miller, S. in 5:30; heavyweight, Olds, F. pinned Dyke, S. in 3 min. In the 145 lb. Moore, F. gained top time advantage over Files, S. of 3:30 and in the 145 lb., Endicott, F. pinned Wallace, S. in 2:15.

Landreth, F. pinned Drake, S. in 3 min in the 135 lb.. In the 155 lb., Cummings, F. gained top time of 3:35 over Williams, S. In the 165 lb., Macre, F. top time over Schiveley, S. of 3:08. Stonehawker, F. pinned Pimental, S. in 5:30 in the 125 lb. division. In 175 lb., White, F. had time advantage of 2:29 over Kid, S. heavyweight, Taylor, F. gained top time of 4 min over Ash, S. In exhibition match Olds, F. pinned Pottorf, S. in 5:40.

lessly like you say I am doing. What else could I have expected form an interview with a ballplayer. I have received my just desserts—make mine Jello!

I think you're acting very strange. Almost crazy! Say, are those baseballs that are flying around in the air around my head—or what?

RUGBY COACH

Ernest Butterworth, new rugby coach of the jaysee team, hails from Vancouver where he coached the Victoria prep team that defeated the Australian Blacks.

Natators Meet Three In March

Swimming meets with Whittier, Occidental, and Pomona colleges will be the first swimming competition Santa Ana's tankmen will face this season, Coach Jess Haxton stated today.

If the arrangements are completed, Santa Ana will meet Whittier on March 1 or 2, Pomona on March 12 or 19, and Occidental on April 3, or before.

Citrus Opens Conference

April 17 marks the first round of conference swimming, when Citrus junior college comes to Santa Ana's "home" pool—probably at Santa Ana High school.

Riverside will be host to Santa Ana on April 24 if the Bengals engage in swimming activities this year.

The following week, May 1, Santa Ana will meet Fullerton, present Southern California Junior college swimming champions, at the Hornet's pool. Chaffey will invade Santa Ana on May 8, and the Dons will travel to San Bernardino May 15.

RUGBY SCHEDULE

- March 6—Santa Ana at U. S. C. (Spartans)
- March 12 — Hollywood at Santa Ana
- March 19—Caltech at Santa Ana
- March 26—Pasadena J. C. at Santa Ana
- April 2—U. S. C. (Varsity) at Santa Ana

Ball Diamond Is Needed

"Where do we go from here boys?"—That's the cry of the local baseball horde.

Last year the Dons had a diamond, but there was not enough boys to make a team. This year there are a flock of high school stars, but there is not a baseball field available for them!

The Lincoln school field was being prepared for the Dons, but the renovation was discontinued because the field was too rocky for a good diamond. Coach Beatty, however, hopes that the money that was to be spent in fixing the field can be used for traveling expenses for games away from home. At the present time he plans to have the Dons practice with the Saints at Poly field twice a week.

Beatty says that he expects to have quite a strong team from 15 aspirants who have reported.

McFarland, DeBrower Hockey Captains

Irene McFarland and Madeline DeBrower have been appointed temporary hockey captains for women's afterschool practice.

Players who come out for practice are: Roberta Nickols, Betty Adams, Irene McFarland, Barbara Hallman, Lois Mae Stockton, Helen Lowe, Justine Madden, Billie Johnson, Frances Was, Ruth Anderson, Marijane Belcher, Barbara Langley, Jo Owens, Madeline DeBrower, Betty Lee, Helena Bailey, Nedra Montgomery, and Miriam Powell.

Faye Barnes and Marion Jenkins started last week to play the game for the first time.

Sophs Lead Frosh In Interclass; Cokeley Stars

To mud or not to mud, that was the question.

Don tracksters chose the latter outlet this week, but the current interclass track meet, led by the sophs, 45-27, will be continued at Poly field next week.

Ray Cokeley's heave of 41 feet 4 inches in the shot was the surprise of the first half of the meet. Competing in four events, Ray captured high point honors for the day with 10 points. Cokeley was a letterman in the weights two years ago.

The meet will be concluded next week with the 150-yard dash, the 660-yard run, the mile and one-half, the discus, the pole vault, the 120-yard low hurdles, and the 880-yard relay.

Cagers Hook up With Citrus Tomorrow

Set Monday For Riverside Basketball Final

Winding up a not-too-successful cage season, the Don basketball quintet hooks up with the Citrus Owls tomorrow night on the local court with the postponed Riverside match coming up Monday night on the Bengal floor.

At Riverside the locals will have a real tussle on their hands and attempt to redeem their poor showing in the season's preview here. A double win would raise the local stock in the standings considerably which now stands at three wins and seven losses.

Nissley and Barrett will be at the forward posts while Stanley, Browning and Rutledge will fill in at the remaining positions.

Cossacks Win

Pomona Junior college's Cossack basketballers took their turn Wednesday in scoring an upset win over the Don quintet. It was also turn about for the invaders to win a hotly contested game, 54-52.

Wasilchen, Red Raider forward and his team's high point ace, put the game on ice with a long basket at the close of the game. His high of 16 points for the evening was however short of Harry Stanley's total of 18 digits.

The lineups:

Santa Ana
Stanley (18).....C.....(13) MacRae
Nissley (9).....F.....(15) Reynolds
Barrett (12).....F.....(16) Wasilchen
Browning (9).....G.....(4) Casey
Rutledge (4).....G (6) McCullough

Why Are We Here?

Why are you going to college?

In case you haven't thought about it, or are skeptical about the worth of college education, listen to what Rosco C. Ingalls, director of Los Angeles Junior college has to say in a recent issue of the Junior Collegian, campus newspaper. He gives the following reasons why a student goes to school:

1. To widen his circle of friends.
2. To develop a 'feeling of being at home in a wide variety of life situations.'
3. To increase his knowledge and his skill in the fields of his major interest.
4. To become acquainted with the civic and social problems of his college and his community.
5. To select for his personal and professional everyday living the best of standards.
6. To qualify for successful placement in the economic life of the community.
7. To acknowledge that education and cultural values are best attained from lifelong learning attitudes and activities.

"A full use of junior college opportunities pays high dividends for youth today."

New College Era

Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, predicts that in the future American youth will get the first two years of its education in "the old home town."

"We may confidently await the day when every young person may, if he wishes, stay at home and complete the work of the sophomore year in college and at public expense," he says. "Graduation from the local junior college will be as customary as graduation from the local high school is today."

New Buildings Would Help

The Santa Ana Journal, staunch backer of the plan for a new junior college, made the following comment early this week:

"Santa Ana Junior college continues to be the tops in many student activities. Its football team and campus papers are champions in their class. And now its men's glee club is the largest in Southern California.

Although the students may rate A-1 in lots of activities, the buildings continue to rate Z-99, or somewhere down near the bottom of the list. That is one reason why the student body at S. A. J. C. is growing smaller year by year, instead of larger."

Junior College Growth

In 1928, there were 408 junior colleges in the United States. Today there are 528, according to the Junior College Journal.

There was a nation-wide enrollment of 50,529 jay-see students in 1928, while today there is a total of 129,106—an enrollment increase of 156 per cent.

California has the largest enrollment of any state with 41,345 students, or 46 per cent of the total junior college enrollment.

HERE'S WHERE THE RUB BEGINS

By OSCAR LIEFFERS

"I rubbed and I rubbed, I scrubbed and I scrubbed, And I showed it to ma for inspection."

Then I showed my hand To a scientific man

But he said 'twas a germy collection."

These words proved to be more truth than poetry, according to a statement made today by Frederick H. Schroeder, instructor in life sciences.

He stated that a person's hands are covered with little germs and bacteria that wait for a chance to enter the body through some small, insignificant wounds and cause an infection. They lie all over the body, but especially on the hands because our hands come in contact with so many things.

It is estimated that a person's hands under the most sanitary conditions, have something like 10,000 little germs on them. This is hard to realize after reading so many advertisements about the creamy milky white hands of some lovely lady.

Physicians, about to perform an operation scrub their hands with hot soap suds for 20 minutes, yet a group of bacteriology students found 1000 bacteria under one fingernail even after this intensive scrubbing, Mr. Schroeder revealed.

Everyone is warned to be careful even with the smallest wounds. They should be painted with iodine as soon as possible. Then you need not fear the germs and bacteria that make your skin their home.

LONGFELLOW'S ANNIVERSARY

Just 130 years ago tomorrow, one of America's most widely read poets, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, was born. As the author of "Hiawatha," "Evangeline," and "The Courtship of Miles Standish," his name has become familiar to most of the school children of the nation.

In 1831 he married an old friend, and in 1834 they went abroad so that he might study for a position at Harvard. While they were in Europe, however, Mrs. Longfellow died. Following this he returned to America and took over his position at Harvard in 1836. In 1843 he married Frances Elizabeth Appleton. They had six children.

Always known for his gentleness and goodness, Longfellow was very popular and had a great many friends. Although his poetry is not outstanding, he was a worldwide figure at his time.

During the last years of his life honors were heaped on him. He received degrees at Oxford and Cambridge, was granted a private audience with Queen Victoria, visited Tennyson, and met scholars and artists in Italy. To his home came many distinguished people year after year.

His works were read not only in America and England, but were translated into many languages. He died on March 24, 1882, and in 1884 a memorial was unveiled to him in Westminster Abbey. He was the first American poet to be commemorated there.

BOOK-MARKS

By Donn Hart

"Anthony Adverse" by Hervey Allen is one of the best books of the year, and is also a "best seller." It took Mr. Allen four years to complete this book, and he must have worked consistently for it is voluminous.

Allen's fictionization of Anthony Adverse makes him a real living character. His early childhood in a convent was so strict and plain that it is no wonder that in his later life, he had a kaleidoscope of thrilling adventures. Spain, France, England, Switzerland, Cuba, Africa, Mexico, and the United States are some of the countries he visited.

The ending of this tale is a topic of much discussion. Its abrupt and sharp finish is to the dismay of many readers who planned that Anthony should die gracefully and slowly. They question why he should die so suddenly after hundreds of pages typifying his life were consumed.

It is possible that the author had in mind that death should be like this—so sudden and quick, or then again, that no matter who the person is, death may come in strange forms.

All in all, "Anthony Adverse" is a great novel. It gives one an excellent idea of the subtle ways in which bankers financed the Napoleonic wars, how they shipped the gold from Mexico, and pictures splendidly the life of the 18th century.

CUB REPORTER GETS AUTOGRAPH

By Delpha Wollert

It was my first experience as an autograph-seeker. Anita Louise gave me the autograph which started my impromptu collection!

A red haired boy standing near amused me, because he was so busy getting autographs. But it wasn't until someone said, "there's Anita Louise," that I decided to do it.

Borrowing an Associated Student ticket from a friend, I unhesitatingly made my way through the crowd that surrounded her. Only one person blocked my path, and when I murmured "pardon me" as if by magic the way was made clear, and Miss Louise stood before me.

Then my confidence disappeared. I had the sudden desire to melt into the crowd and not bother her. However there I was, and I had to go through with it.

She was so sweet and small, golden haired and smiling. Although her car was slow in arriving, she seemed only slightly anxious and unaware of a fine, driving rain which dampened everything in sight.

Graciously she gave me her autograph, and as I stood holding the slip of paper for her to sign I couldn't help feeling perfectly at ease and aware of a sweet sharm, which must make expectant autograph seekers find an unceasing joy in their hobby.

Strange Phenomena Growing Here

By ROVING REPORTER

Bananas are berries! That is, botanically speaking they are, as well as oranges, tomatoes, and squash. These fruits are among those that come under the definition of a berry as a fleshy fruit with seeds in the center. Botanists also state that the fruits commonly called berries such as strawberry, raspberry, and blackberry are not berries at all. On the contrary the sweet and luscious red portion of the strawberry, for instance, is no more than a resting place for the fruit of the plant, tiny yellow grains.

Other strange classifications are made in fruits also. For instance, walnuts and almonds are the same type as peaches and apricots. Coconuts, too, fall in this division.

At least this treatment of the walnut and almond is not too radical a change from usage for, among others, the acorn, the chestnut, and the hazelnut still remain as true nuts.

The campus itself is not without its botanical phenomena. The palm newly placed in front of the Women's lounge is in the same general class as pines and firs. Although it does not look like them, the tree bears cones and this one characteristic makes it a relative of the pines and other trees of that kind.
